INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors VIBE Arts

I have audited the accompanying financial statements of VIBE Arts which comprise the statement of financial position as at August 31, 2017, and the statements of operations and changes in fund balances and cash flows for the year then ended and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit. I conducted my audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. These standards require that I comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal controls. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained in my audit is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Opinion

In my opinion these financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of VIBE Arts as at August 31, 2017, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

1 Nature of operations

VIBE Arts (formerly Arts for Children and Youth) was established in 1995 with the principal goal of engaging children and youth from underserved communities in the Greater Toronto Area in the arts, through participation in accessible, high quality and innovative programs.

VIBE is incorporated without share capital under Ontario law and is a tax-exempt registered charity under Section 149(1)(f) of the Income Tax Act (Canada) and as such is exempt from income taxes and is able to issue tax-deductible receipts to donors.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations. The significant accounting policies followed in the preparation of these financial statements are outlined below.

Fund accounting

The financial statements include the following funds:

- i. The General fund accounts for the general operating activities of VIBE;
- The Outreach fund accounts for the outreach programs intended to enhance arts education in the broader community. Revenues recognized in this fund include amounts designated by the contributor to be used for outreach programs;
- iii. The Reserve fund general is an internally restricted fund created as a reserve against potential interruptions in funding or other revenues.

Revenue recognition

VIBE follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions.

Contributions including grants and donations, that are earmarked for outreach programs are recognized as revenue when the related expenditure is incurred. Unrestricted contributions, sponsorship and fundraising revenue are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured. Externally restricted contributions are deferred when initially recorded in the accounts and recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are incurred. Where funds are received in connection with the creation of public artworks where a maintenance fund is required to be maintained, funds received are deferred when initially recorded in the accounts and recognized as revenue in the year in which the related maintenance expenses are incurred. Contributions designated by the donors for capital acquisition are initially recorded as deferred capital contributions and are recognized in revenue at the same rate as the related capital asset acquired is amortized. Program fees are recognized as revenue when the programs are held. OACF Arts Endowment Fund distributions are recorded as revenue when received.

Interest and other revenue are recognized on an accrual basis.

Contributed goods and services

VIBE accepts donations in kind. The value of contributed goods is recognized when received if a fair value can be reasonably estimated and the goods are used in the normal course of operations and would otherwise have been purchased. Goods contributed for resale at fundraising events are not recognized in these statements, as the fundraising revenues are recognized. Volunteers are critical for the operations of VIBE and contribute significantly to its activities; due to the difficulty of determining their fair value, contributed services are not recognized in the financial statements.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash includes cash on hand, deposits with chartered banks less outstanding cheques, and short term money market instruments which are readily convertible into a known amount of cash, are subject to insignificant risk of changes in value, and with terms to maturity of three months or less at the date of purchase.

Financial instruments

VIBE initially measures its financial assets and liabilities at fair value. VIBE subsequently measures all its financial assets and financial liabilities at amortized cost, except for its cash and cash equivalents and segregated funds, which are measured at fair value. Changes in fair value are recognized in the statement of operations.

Financial assets measured at amortized cost include GICs, and amounts and loans receivable. Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost include accounts payable and accrued liabilities and loans payable.

VIBE recognizes its transaction costs in the excess of revenues over expenditures in the period incurred.

Tangible capital assets

Tangible capital assets are recorded at cost and amortized at the following rates, over the expected useful life of the particular assets.

Furniture and equipment
Audio/Visual equipment
Leasehold improvements
Computer hardware
Computer software
Motor vehicle
Straight-line basis over 5 years
Straight-line basis over 5 years
Straight-line basis over 3 years
Straight-line basis over 3 years
Straight-line basis over 5 years

Amortization is recorded at half the above rate in the year of acquisition.

Deferred revenue

Deferred revenue includes amounts received in respect of programs to be delivered in future periods. Deferred revenue is recorded when the funds are received, and recognized as revenue in the year the related expenditure takes place.

Deferred capital contributions

Contributions received for the specific purpose of acquiring capital assets are recorded as deferred capital contributions, and recognized as revenue at the same rate that the related assets are amortized.

Deferred program expansion

Deferred program expansion includes a contribution received in the year for the specific purpose of program expansion. The balance is recognized as revenue in the year the related expenditure takes place, or as revenue at the same rate that the related capital assets acquired are amortized, as the case may be.

Mural maintenance reserve

VIBE is obligated to maintain certain public murals for varying periods, generally not in excess of five years from the date of installation. Portions of funding received are deferred and accounted for in the mural maintenance reserve on a specific project basis. Deferred mural maintenance reserves are recorded when the funds are received, and recognized as revenue in the year the related expenditure takes place.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates that affect the recognition, measurement and disclosure of amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. The reported amounts and disclosures are determined using management's best estimates based on assumptions that reflect the most probable set of economic conditions and planned courses of action. Such estimates include the useful lives of the capital assets, and the appropriate amount of revenue deferral. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

3 Change in accounting policy

During the year VIBE changed its accounting policy with respect to the amortization of tangible capital property in order to simplify the accounting procedures required, by calculating amortization on an annual basis by class of asset, with half the rate of amortization applied in the year of acquisition. Previously, amortization was calculated on a monthly basis by individual asset. This policy has been applied on a prospective basis as changes to previously calculated balances was considered impracticable and the impact on accumulated balances was not material.

4 GICs

VIBE holds term deposits with maturities exceeding three months at the time of purchase, acquired with funds that have been deferred for future program costs. Term deposits with maturities of three months or less, and money market mutual funds, are reported under cash and cash equivalents.

6 Financial instruments

VIBE is exposed to various risks through its financial instruments. The following analysis provides a measure of VIBE's risk exposure and concentrations. The financial instruments and the nature of the risks to which they may be subject are as follows:

				Market risk
Financial instrument	Credit	Liquidity	Currency	Interest rate	Other Price
Cash and cash equivalents				X	X
GICs				X	X
Amounts receivable	X	X
Amounts payable and accrued charges		X

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will cause a financial loss for the other party by failing to discharge an obligation. VIBE is exposed to credit risk through amounts receivable. While amounts receivable are generally unsecured, VIBE has management procedures in place to mitigate the risk of loss with respect to amounts receivable.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that VIBE will not be able to meet a demand for cash or fund its obligations as they come due. VIBE meets its liquidity requirements by preparing and monitoring forecasts of cash flows from its activities, preparing budgets, anticipating investing and financing activities, and holding assets that can be readily converted into cash, including amounts specifically reserved to meet liquidity requirements.

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk is comprised of currency risk, interest rate risk and other price risk.

Currency risk

Currency risk reflects the risks that VIBE's earnings will decline due to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates. VIBE does not have assets or liabilities expressed in foreign currencies. As a result, VIBE is not subject to currency risk.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The exposure of VIBE to interest rate risk arises from its short-term GICs and money market investments included in cash and cash equivalents. Fluctuations in market rates of interest are not expected to have a significant impact on VIBE's operations.

Other price risk

Other price risk refers to the risk that the fair value of financial instruments or future cash flows associated with the instruments will fluctuate because of changes in market prices (other than those arising from currency risk or interest rate risk), whether those changes are caused by factors specific to the individual instrument or its issuer or factors affecting all similar instruments in the market. The exposure of VIBE to interest rate risk arises from its money market investments included in cash and cash equivalents. Fluctuations in market rates of interest are not expected to have a significant impact on VIBE's operations.

It is the opinion of management that VIBE is not exposed to significant risks arising from these financial instruments, and that there has been no significant change in risk exposure from the prior year.

7 Deferred revenue

Deferred revenue includes cash received from various donors specifically earmarked for projects that will be undertaken in future years.

	 2017	2016
Deferred revenue at the beginning of the year	$ 365,231	$ 328,035
Less: amounts recognized as revenue in the year Add: amounts received relating to future year	(365,231)	(328,035)
expenditures	 351,418	365,231
Deferred revenue at the end of the year	$ 351,418	$ 365,231

8 Deferred capital contributions

Deferred capital contributions represent the unamortized amount of contributions received for the purchase of capital assets. The amortization of deferred capital contributions is recorded as revenue in the statement of operations and changes in fund balances. At year end, all capital contributions received have been expended, and the remaining balance of deferred capital contributions equals the unamortized balance of those assets acquired with these funds. The changes in the deferred capital contributions balance are as follows:

		2017	2016
Deferred capital contributions, beginning of the year	$	19,063	$ 28,782
Add: amounts received in the year		-	-
Less: amounts recognized as revenue in the year	-	(18,854)	(9,719)
Deferred capital contributions, end of the year	$	209	$ 19,063

17 Capital management

VIBE's objective, when managing capital, is to have sufficient liquid resources available for general and outreach activities and to safeguard the entity's ability to continue as a going concern, so that it can continue to achieve its main purpose (note 1 above). VIBE defines its capital as cash and cash equivalents, GICs and fund balances.
